THING 2

A Bold Fusion of Form and Material [Furniture]

An evolution of Thing 1, Thing 2 follows the same sculptural language—carved from a single block of neem wood and inspired by the iconic character from The Addams Family. What sets Thing 2 apart is the use of coquina stone at the fingertips, adding contrast, texture, and a refined edge to its expressive form. This striking combination of materials turns it into a standout piece—one that can be appreciated as a sculptural artwork or transformed into a functional table with a glass top.

Material: Neem Wood, Coquina Rock

Height : 30” Width : 30” Length : 41”

SARPA SUTRA

Furniture

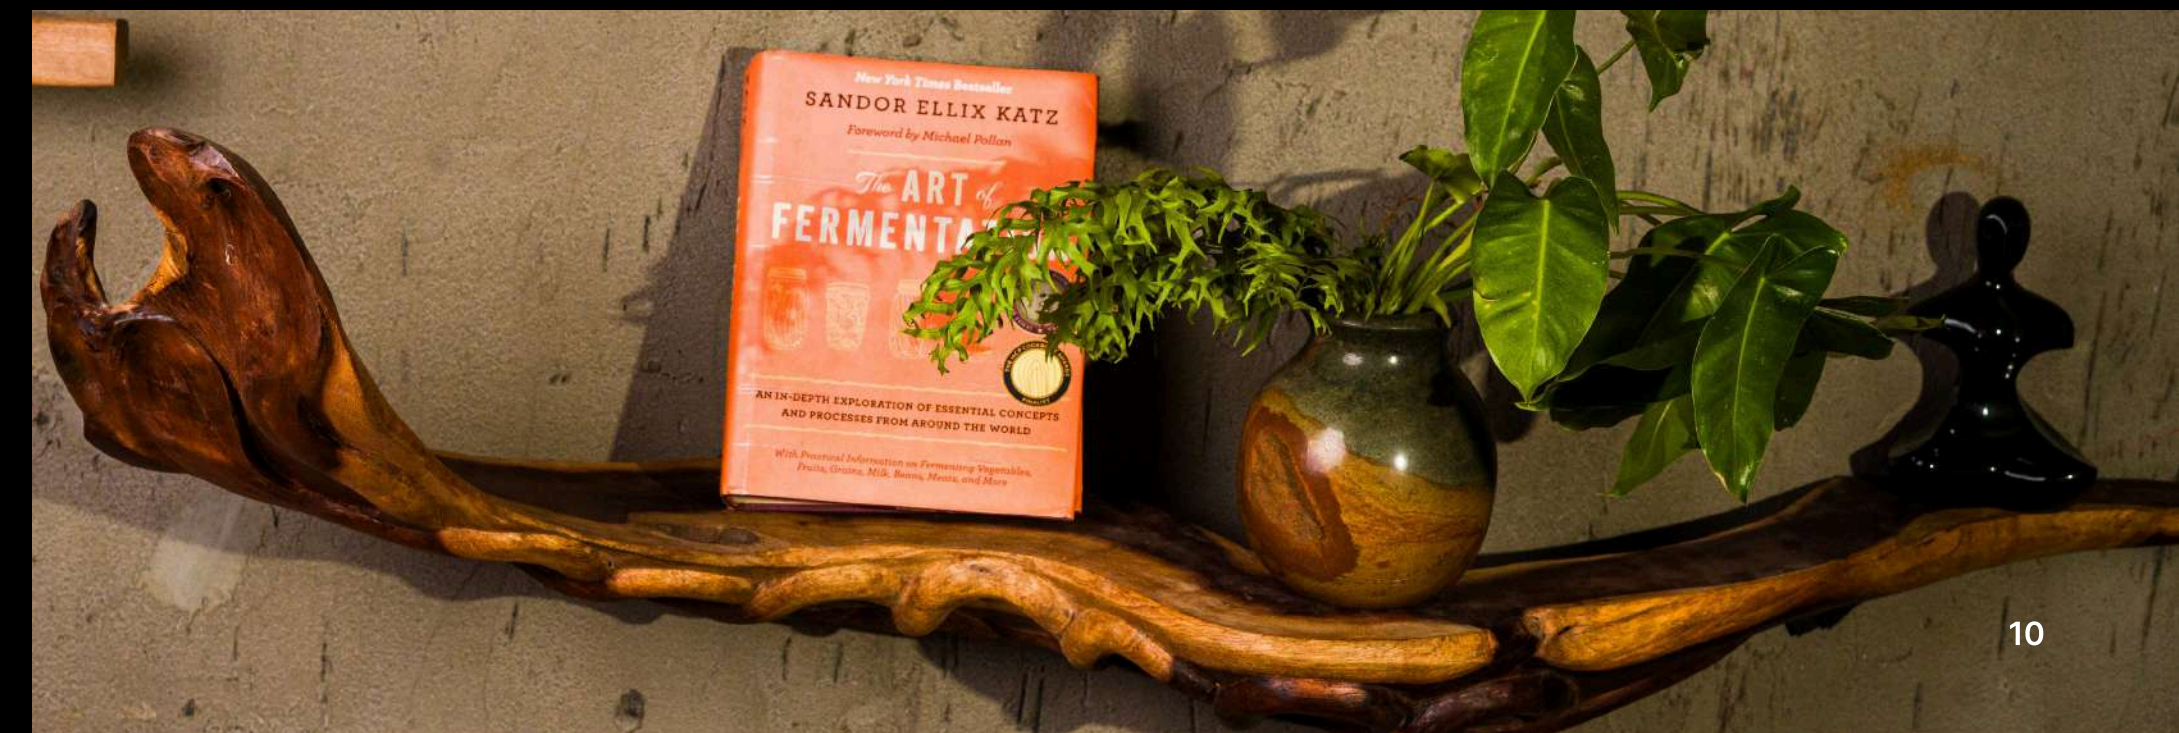

Sarpa Sutra is a captivating floating bookshelf sculpted from a singular piece of rosewood, embodying the essence of Indian mythology and artistry. Inspired by the mysticism of serpents—symbolic of protection, rebirth, and eternity—two intricately carved snakes entwine along its length, their heads gracefully extending at either end. This sculptural masterpiece serves not only as a functional bookshelf but as a statement of timeless elegance and cultural reverence. The seamless curves and natural grain of the rosewood elevate its form, allowing it to be both an artistic standalone piece and a display for curated objects. A perfect union of craft and symbolism, Sarpa Sutra brings an aura of grace and mystique to any space it adorns.

Material: Pacific Rosewood

Length : 49”

BALANCING STONES

Where Nature Meets Sculpture [Furniture]

Crafted from a single block of Neem wood and balanced upon two natural rock boulders, the Balancing Stones sculptural seat is a harmonious blend of raw materials and artistic form. Its central body serves as a functional seating area, while the elevated extension gracefully holds a candle, adding a touch of elemental warmth. This masterwork seamlessly merges wood and stone, evoking a sense of grounded elegance that transcends indoor and outdoor spaces alike. Both functional and visually arresting, Balancing Stones is a testament to organic design, celebrating nature's raw beauty through sculptural craftsmanship.

Material: Neem Wood, Black Granite Boulder

Height : 22"

Width : 31"

Length : 80"

GAIA REFLECTION CENTER TABLE

Furniture

The Gaia Reflection Center Table is an exploration of material fusion and sculptural artistry. Anchored by a base of Coquina stone, its wave-like carvings mimic the fluidity of natural formations, symbolizing depth and the passage of time. Rising from this textured stone is a stunning 30-inch cross-sectional cut of Mahogany wood, chosen for its swirling grain patterns that evoke the semblance of eyes. At the heart of this expression, an Eastern Walnut inlay is meticulously sculpted into a triangular form, hinting at a nose-like structure, while a subtle opening beneath suggests a whisper of wonder. This masterful integration of stone and wood crafts an abstract yet familiar visage, turning functional design into a moment of artistic reflection.

Material: Coquina Rock, Mahogany wood with East Indian Walnut wood inlay

Height : 18”

Diameter : 30”

Note: Customization is available in choice of material and sizes

VERDANT FLOW BENCH

Furniture

Sculpted from a single block of premium limestone, Verdant Flow Bench showcases a stunning blend of deep verdant greens and warm golden hues. Its fluid, organic form seamlessly transitions from surface to base, evoking the natural flow of water over stone. A statement of timeless elegance, perfect for both indoor and outdoor landscapes.

COQUINA ROCK BENCH

Furniture

Crafted from monochrome golden ash limestone and resting on mixed Coquina stone legs, the Coquina Rock Bench Series is a tribute to raw elegance and sculptural mastery. Each bench is sculpted to reveal the natural flow and organic texture of the stone, inviting a tactile experience that goes beyond mere functionality. Its solid form is balanced by smooth, inviting curves, creating a seating experience that is both sturdy and artistically engaging. Customizable in various shapes, sizes, and stone finishes, the Coquina Rock Bench seamlessly integrates into diverse landscapes and interiors, encouraging connection and interaction through its bold presence and organic form.

Material: Coquina Rock

Height : 18"

Width : 33"

Length : 86"

VOIDED SIDE TABLE

Furniture

Sculpted from a single block of black granite, the Voided Side Table plays with negative space and visual movement. The central void creates an illusion of motion—an elegant curve that draws the eye from one edge to the other. More than just an artistic gesture, this hollow also lightens the weight visually and physically, making it easier to reposition while adding depth and character. Finished in a muted matte, it enhances the richness of the granite without overwhelming shine, making it a striking and functional anchor for any contemporary space.

Material: Black Granite

Height : 20” Diameter : 15”

SEDIMENT TABLE

furniture

Inspired by geological layering and the slow passage of time, Sediment Table is sculpted from stacked, contoured slices of mixed Coquina stone—each layer echoing the natural buildup of sediment over millennia. Its undulating base supports a floating glass top, creating a striking contrast between raw earth and refined clarity. A sculptural expression of time, form, and balance.

Material: Mixed Coquina Rock, 12mm Toughend Glass

Height : 26” Glass Height : 18” Diameter : 24”

Note: Customization is available in choice of material and sizes

COQUINA SIDE TABLES

Fossils in Form [Furniture]

Crafted from rare fossiliferous Coquina limestone, the Coquina Side Tables are sculptural collectibles that embody millions of years of natural history. Each piece is composed of two interlocking elements—top and base—seamlessly joined with a concealed metal plate, preserving the purity of its form. The stone’s surface reveals embedded marine fossils, offering a tactile and visual narrative of ancient ocean life. Available in various shapes and sizes, these tables bring a timeless, organic presence to both indoor and outdoor spaces, transforming any corner into a story-rich focal point.

Material: Coquina Rock

SCULPTURAL NEEM VOID

An Ode to Nature's Form

Carved from the heart of a single Neem tree, this sculptural masterpiece embodies the raw, unyielding beauty of nature. Its organic form flows with natural voids that invite exploration, symbolizing hidden narratives and untouched realms. The intricate detailing, accentuated by a charred surface technique, creates a powerful contrast between light and shadow, evoking a sense of movement and timelessness.

Standing firmly on three stone bases, it bridges the gap between nature's wild elegance and modern sculptural art. Its imposing structure commands attention, yet its fluid lines and hollow spaces offer gentle moments of reflection. This piece not only showcases the beauty of raw.

Neem wood but also serves as a dialogue between natural chaos and sculptural control—a tribute to the spirit of organic modernism.

Material: Neem Wood

Height : 92"

Width : 78"

Depth : 15"

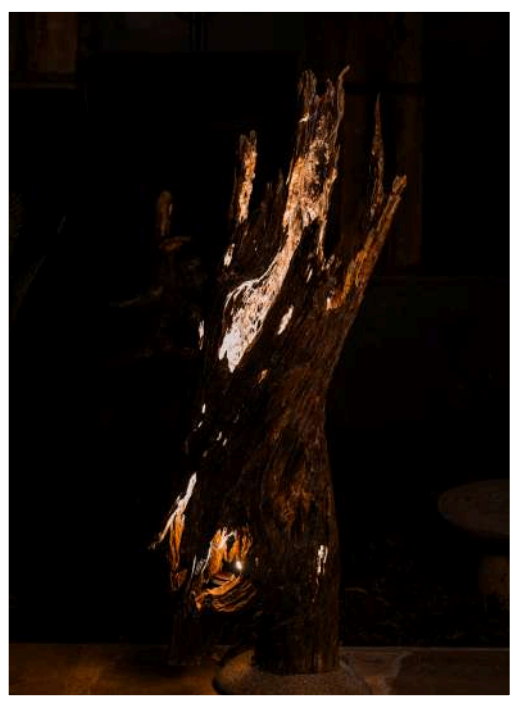

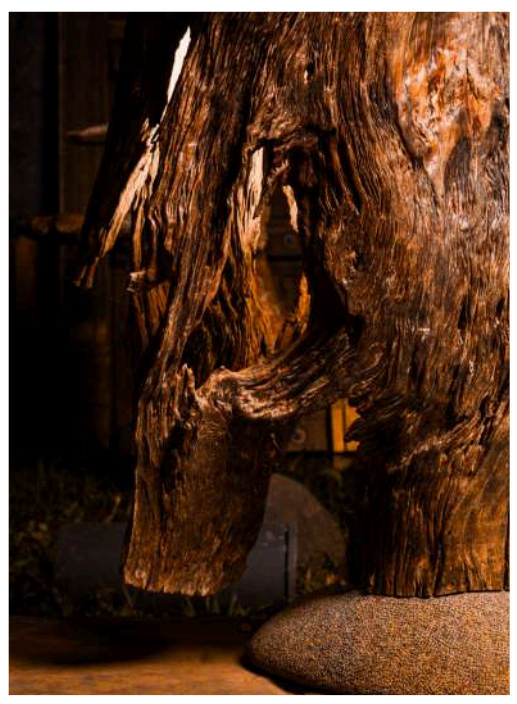

ACACIA LUMINA

Nature’s Echo in Light [Lighting]

Crafted by nature and perfected by time, the Acacia Lumina is a testament to raw beauty preserved through organic artistry. Left to the elements, termites gracefully sculpted its form, leaving only the densest layers as an ode to resilience. Mounted atop a smooth stone base with a hidden light source, it radiates a warm glow that breathes life into its voids and textures. Perfect for both indoor and outdoor settings, Acacia Lumina is a celebration of nature’s delicate yet enduring craftsmanship—a sculptural light that tells the tale of nature’s unyielding spirit.

Material: Acacia Wood, Textured Black Granite, SS Rods, LED Light

Height : 55” Width : 20” Thickness : 18”

MYSTICAL MOUNTAIN LAMP SERIES

Lighting

Inspired by the sacred Arunachala Hill in Tiruvannamalai, where a colossal flame is lit atop the summit during the Karthikai Deepam festival to symbolize Shiva's infinite light, the Mystical Mountain Lamp Series captures the spiritual essence of this revered tradition. Each lamp is sculpted to reflect the rugged textures and silhouettes of mountain formations, embodying the divine energy celebrated in Indian mythology. The raw silk encasing atop diffuses light softly, creating an ambiance reminiscent of the sacred glow witnessed during the festival.

Height : 73"

Length : 85"

Depth : 32"

REFLECTING DRIFT

Mirror

A sculptural reflection of movement and stillness, Reflecting Drift merges a hand-cut mirror with a gently flowing piece of driftwood. The form remains unframed above, suggesting freedom and fluidity, while the mirror grounds the piece with clarity and purpose. It invites the viewer to engage not only with their own image but with the shifting environment around it—echoing tides, breezes, and thought. Both an art object and a meditative surface, this piece holds space with quiet strength.

Material: Natural driftwood with inlaid mirror

Height : 22"

Length : 50"

Thickness : 02"

Note: Customization is available in choice of material and sizes

ORACLE MIRROR

Eastern Walnut Mirror Series[Mirrors]

An evocative fusion of reflection and form, the Wood, Oracle, Mirror series explores the natural wisdom embedded in wood’s organic grain. Crafted from 2-inch splines of rich Eastern Walnut, each mirror is carefully shaped with both interior and exterior nosing, allowing the flowing contours of the wood to guide the final form. The result is a series of sculptural pieces that hold a dark brown to golden hue, rich with the depth of natural grain and warm, earthen contrast.

Each mirror in the series invites quiet contemplation—an oracle of stillness where the self is both framed and unbound. Whether placed in a living space, an entryway, or a quiet corner of the home, these pieces bring both grounding presence and striking elegance. Available in varied organic shapes and sizes, each one is a singular reflection—of nature, of craft, and of you.
